

Application to Change Insured Salary

When to use this form

If you have salary-based income protection cover, use this form if your salary has recently changed (this can be an increase or decrease) and you would like to update your insured salary. To be eligible to update your insured salary, you must meet the requirements described in the Section 2 Checklist.

This change will not count as personalising your cover. Premiums will be calculated and deducted at the 'default rate' (or 'default police rate') from the date of the change, unless you've already applied an 'occupational rating'.

If your request is above the automatic acceptance limit, you will need to provide additional health and other information (refer to the Insurance Guide for more details). We will contact you if this is required.

Important: If accepted, your salary-based cover amount will be updated based on your new insured salary from the date we accept your request.

Please complete in BLOCK letters, in blue or black ink.

The duty to take reasonable care

When applying for insurance, you have a legal duty to take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation to us or the insurer before your application for insurance is accepted by the insurer. A misrepresentation is a false answer, an answer that is only partially true, or an answer that does not fairly reflect the truth.

This duty also applies when extending or making changes to existing insurance, and reinstating insurance.

If you do not meet your legal duty

If you do not meet your legal duty, this can have serious impacts on your insurance. Your cover could be avoided (treated as if it never existed), or its terms may be changed. This may also result in a claim being declined or a benefit being reduced. Please note that there may be circumstances where the insurer may later investigate whether the information provided to us was true. For example, the insurer may do this when a claim is made. As part of these investigations, the insurer may require you to supply health and other information and require you to attend medical examinations.

Guidance for answering our questions

When we ask you questions, we do so on behalf of the insurer. You are responsible for the information provided to us and the insurer. When answering our questions, please:

- Think carefully about each question before you answer. If you are unsure of the meaning of any question, please ask us before you respond.
- Answer every question that we ask you.
- Do not assume that we will contact your doctor for any medical information.

¹ If your name has changed and you work for the Queensland Government or default employer, let your payroll office know and they'll then let us know. Otherwise, please send us a certified copy of either a marriage certificate or other legal change of name document.

- Answer truthfully, accurately and completely. If you are unsure about whether you should include information, please include it.
- Review your application carefully before it is submitted. If someone else helped prepare your application (for example, your adviser), please check every answer (and if necessary, make any corrections) before the application is submitted.

Changes before your cover starts

Before your cover starts, please tell us about any changes that mean you and each person that answered our questions would now answer differently. As any changes might require further assessment or investigation, it could save time if you let us know about any changes when they happen.

If you need help

It's important that you understand this information and the questions we ask. Ask us or your adviser for help if you have difficulty understanding the process of applying for insurance or answering our questions.

If you're having difficulty due to a disability, understanding English or for any other reason, please let us know so we can discuss any additional support you may need. If you want, you can have a support person you trust with you or receive assistance from the Australian Government's Translating and Interpreting Service (TIS National) on 131 450. It's available to anyone, 24/7 (all day, every day).

About this application

When you apply for insurance, we conduct a process called underwriting. It's how the insurer decides whether it can cover you, and if so on what terms and at what cost. You will be asked questions that the insurer needs to know the answers to. These will be about your personal circumstances, such as your health and medical history, occupation, income, lifestyle, pastimes, and current and past insurance. The information you give in response to these questions is vital to the insurer's decision.

Notifying the insurer

After your cover starts, please tell us immediately if you think you may not have met your duty and we'll let you know whether it has any impact on the cover.

What can we do if the duty is not met

If you do not take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation, there are different remedies that maybe available to the insurer. These are set out in the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth). These are intended to put the insurer in the position they would have been in if the duty had been met.

For example the insurer may:

- Avoid the cover (treat it as if it never existed);
- Vary the amount of the cover; or
- Vary the terms of the cover.

Whether the insurer can exercise one of these remedies depends on a number of factors, including:

- Whether, when you answered our questions, you took reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation. This depends on all of the relevant circumstances. This includes how clear and specific our questions were and how clear the information we provided on the duty was.
- What the insurer would have done if the duty had been met – for example, whether the insurer would have offered cover, and if so, on what terms
- Whether the misrepresentation was fraudulent.

Our insurer can only avoid, vary or reduce a contract for death cover within three years from the time the cover starts. Before the insurer exercises any of these remedies, the insurer will explain its reasons, how to respond and provide further information, and what you can do if you disagree.
